

THE HEALER'S CURSE

THE EMPEROR'S CONSPIRACY 2

She's their only hope. If only she could wield the power to save them...

Geriell hates that she's the weakest healer in her tribe. And when a deadly disease sweeps through her village, she despairs she's not good enough to rescue her people. With the outbreak spreading and her gift unstable, she's sent on a desperate mission to locate the herbal cure deep in enemy territory.

Seeking to better control her powers with guidance from a skilled dragon, she falls in with a ragtag band of freedom fighters. But even with her mentor's mystic teachings, villagers are still dying. And as war closes in, Geriell fears she's losing the race against time.

Will Geriell find the cure and unlock her talents before her kind fall to the blight?

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Claire Leggett has loved dragons, magic and everything fantastical since she read The Enchanted Wood by Enid Blyton. As a child she used to sneak to the bottom of the garden in the hope of finding fairies. Alas, she never found any, so she brought them alive in her own imagination. Her stories are full of magic, adventure and escape.

Claire lives in Western Australia and is available for library talks and writing workshops.
